Hogan-Lee has a new image!

Hogan-Lee introduces the most sophisticated and versatile animation service in the industry. A total service consisting of animation photography, ink and paint and Xerox facilities. No longer will you need to divide these services between a trio of shops.

To accomplish this full service, we've been on the move. We've set up new offices in a 37,000 sq. ft. building on the corner of Magnolia and Coldwater Canyon Blvds. Inside you'll find a service studio that strives for efficiency, neatness and accuracy. We think this makes Hogan-Lee special indeed.

Our efficiency just might save you money on services-you are paying for elsewhere. We have a plan that helps reduce your costs. We work by the hour. You pay for only time spent on your job... not a whole day or week when only an afternoon's labors are required.

You can always predict your costs in terms of camera, ink and paint and Xerox when you're with Hogan-Lee. Of course, this is all in addition to the people who make these services work.

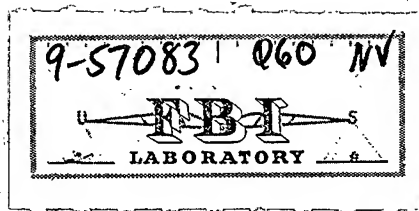

Our team of specialists constitute a resource in themselves for you. Huddle with us. We give good answers to tough assignments and subsequently, the best results possible. That's what Hogan-Lee's all about.

A complete animation service.
It's working for you, the producer, to make your productions move better.
